City of South Fulton to hold a Power of Compliance Seminar

(City of South Fulton, GA – November 25, 2019) – The City of South Fulton Community Development and Regulatory Affairs Department will hold a Power of Compliance seminar Thursday, December 5, 2019 from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. The seminar will serve as an opportunity for community members to increase their regulatory knowledge and decrease code violations.

Residents will have the opportunity to learn about code enforcement violations, planning and zoning applications, land disturbance applications, sanitation regulations and SeeClickFix. They will also be able to interact, face-to-face, with city development experts.

“We are excited to reintroduce the Power of Compliance to our constituents,” said Shayla Reed, Community Development and Regulatory Affairs Director. “This seminar has proven to provide city residents and businesses valuable, community-based information. The seminar will further the city’s Public Education initiative and serve as a platform for residents to meet city development staff, ask questions and receive an abundance of information.

The seminar will be held at Burdett Park located at 2945 Burdett Road College Park, GA 30349. For more information on the seminar, visit our website at www.cityofsouthfultonga.gov.
